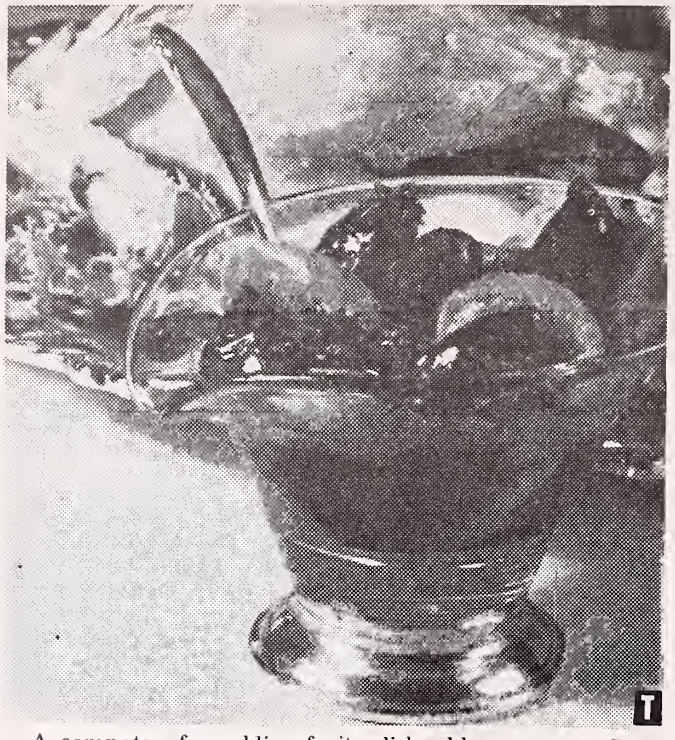
ADD RELISH TO YOUR HOLIDAY MEALS



A compote of sparkling fruit relish adds sweet-sour flavor and a homey, old fashioned touch to your Holiday meals. Relishes, such as cranberry, were an essential part of the festive meal of bygone days.

For a change from the cranberry syndrome — try this relish of plumped dried fruits: apricots, raisins, and dates. You can make up a batch at the beginning of the season. It couldn't be quicker to make and keeps well in the refrigerator for several weeks.

And while you're at it, why not make up an extra batch; remove the cinnamon sticks, and ladle, boiling, into sterilized jars to give as holiday gifts.

SPICED DATE RELISH

1 3/4 cups cider vinegar
3/4 cup water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 3/4 cups light brown sugar, packed
2 (3-inch) sticks cinnamon
6 whole cloves
3 tablespoons finely chopped crystallized ginger
1 (8-ounce) package dried apricot halves
1/2 cup raisins
1 (8-ounce) package DROMEDARY Pitted Dates

Combine first six ingredients in large heavy saucepan. Stir over medium heat until sugar is dissolved. Add next three ingredients. Cover; bring to a boil; simmer 20 minutes or until apricots are soft. Add dates; cook 5 minutes longer. Cool. Remove cinnamon sticks. Chill. Makes about 1 quart.

a teacher in the Wareham School System, have resided, with their two children, on Neck Road, Mattapoisett, since March, 1967. Mrs. Sylvester has worked with the local Girl Scouts; she and her husband are presidents of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church Couples Club.

Her appointment becomes effective January 1, 1972, and starting December 13th, she will commence a two-week orientation period, working with Mrs. Lenora P. De Coffe, R.N.

Tax Raid

Editorial, D.C.J.

Every tax, when proposed and voted, contains safeguards to assure the taxpayer that the tax will perform the function for which it is assessed and to insure that it will not be diverted to other interests. The gasoline tax is no exception. Massachusetts' gasoline taxes are collected from motor vehicle owners for the express purpose of building new roads. Thanks to this tax and its safeguarded purpose, Massachusetts has excellent roads such as 195. There is no surplus, however. For example the long wait to double barrel 140 was due to lack of money.

Recently, petitions have been circulated to collect signatures requesting a change in the law to remove the restriction so as to allow the gasoline tax money to be raided by rapid transit interests. Should this happen the motorist will find that the only efficient rapid transit will be the tax money rushing down this bottomless well. The result will be tremendous increases in gasoline taxes coupled with a deteriorating road system. No public rapid transit system in modern history has done anything except squander tax money at an ever increasing rate. To allow them access to a huge new bonanza would be extremely unwise. It is unfair to the motorist. It is absolutely opposite from the intended purpose of gasoline tax money. It would be catastrophic to our road building activities.

As for public transporation, it would be a boost to the inefficiency and poor management that has led to the present crisis, to have a huge new subsidy to draw upon. It would be rewarding failure handsomely.

No one who uses a car, or plans to, should

"Skating Bulldogs"

ORRH HOCKEY SQUAD PREPARES FOR SEASON

Fifty-five candidates reported to Coaches Wayne Oliviera and Charles Briggs at the initial tryout for this year's "Skating Bulldog" Hockey team.

This will be the second year for the sport at the high school on the varsity level, and enthusiasm is running high.

All but two players from last year's squad are returning, and Coaches Oliviera and Briggs feel that this team will "come of age", with the experience gained last year and the increased maturity that is apparent in this year's candidates.

Practices are held Monday through Thursday nights at the Tabor Academy rink from 6 to 7 P.M.

The Bulldogs will open their season on the road playing Bourne High School at iff of London.

In conjunction with this opening on Friday, December 10, will be a Special Christmas Chamber Concert featuring Sandra Stuart, Soprano. Miss Stuart is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music. She also attended the American Conservatory in Fontainebleau, France, where she worked with Nadia Boulanger who encouraged her to specialize in the performance of early music. She has performed extensively with her group throughout Massachusetts' schools, under the auspices of Young Audiences, Inc., a non-profit organization that presents professional musicians in concerts designed for children. She appears in concerts in the Greater Boston area and on television and radio. Miss Stuart was an original member of the Cambridge Consort and the Old North Singers and has also sung with the Boston Early Music Quartet and the Camerats of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. She has recorded works by Bach and Monteverdi for Cambridge Records and Renaissance and Medieval Music for Vox.

The accompanist will be John Cook. Mr. Cook was born in England and is a graduate of Cambridge University where he was Organ Scholar at Christ's College. After some years of work as conductor and composer for the Old Vic Theatre Company he was appointed Organist and Choirmaster of the Parish Church at Stratford-upon-Avon. In 1954 he went to Canada where he taught at the University of Western Ontario and wrote scores for 13 productions at the Stratford Shakespearean Festival. Mr. Cook is presently organist of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and lecturer in the Department of Music. He performs frequently as harpsichordist in the series of Noonhour Concerts in MIT Chapel which he started in

GRANGE HAS MEETING

Mattapoisett Grange held its bi-monthly meeting last Thursday night with the worthy master Mark Breton presiding. Honored guest was Edna Handford of the State Home and Community Service Committee.

A report of several cards sent out to the Grange shut-ins was given by Mrs. Ruby Barber.

Mrs. Mildred LeBaron reported that C. Wesley Thayer, master of the Massachusetts State Grange, will be the speaker for the 75th anniversary. He will also present the Golden Sheaf certificates with the 50-year jewels and 25-year certificates.

It was voted to entertain members of the Junior Grange at the Christmas party December 16th. A card party will be held at the home of Mrs. LeBaron, 7 Water Street, on Monday, December 13th, to help with the anniversary expenses.

A fine legislative report was given by Earle Wilson, and Mark Harris gave an interesting report on the work of the Conservation Committee and its aims.

Herbert LaFleur won the prize for the lecturer's march.

A paper on an implement, the sickle, necessary to conduct a Grange meeting, was read by Mark Harris, who also added the usefulness of the scythe.

The program was conducted by Mrs. Ruby Barber, Flora of the Grange, who read several articles on Christmas. Trumpet solos were given by Mark Harris, who rendered the Lonely Bull and Brasilia. This was followed by a pencil and paper game, naming the most presidents' names. Winners were Earle Wilson and Herbert LaFleur.

The evening ended with Mark Breton and Mark Harris in charge of refreshments and the social hour.

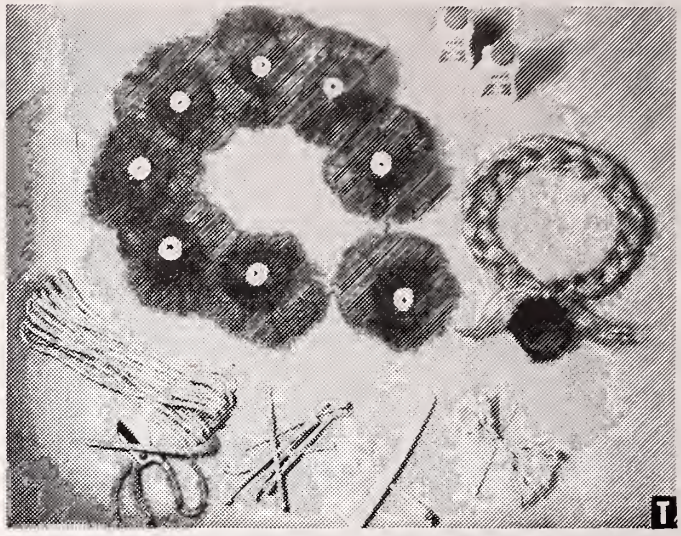
AWARDED CITATION

George Correa of Fairhaven Road, Mattapoisett was honored at the Fantasia Restaurant in Cambridge by Phi Delta Chi, National Chemical Fraternity of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. A gold embossed citation was presented to Mr. Correa at the annual banquet of the Eta Chapter of the fraternity. It was the 50th anniversary of his initiation into the Fraternity on December 16, 1921. Qualifications of this organization require a student to be in the top segment of his class.

Mr. Correa was the only member of that 1921 group to attend this year.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS: TWINE AND DANDY



Unexpected sources found in the home are materials for imaginative Christmas decorations. Rope was dyed and shaped to make these unusual and decorative wreaths.

Imaginative Christmas decorations can be made from unexpected sources of materials such as inexpensive twine, rope or string. For unusual and decorative wreaths to adorn a door or mantle, try these ones made of sisal rope. The rope is unravelled for a textured look and festively colored in a dye solution. Colors can be traditional red and green or colors to complement a room. Make both wreaths with heavy sisal rope (about 1/2 inch diameter) from

Pigtail wreath:

Cut sisal rope into 6 lengths of 6 feet each. Unravel each length and tie loosely in center with a small piece of string so lengths will not separate during dyeing. Dip rope into a solution of 1 tablespoon liquid dye (or 1/2 teaspoon all purpose powder dye) mixed in 1 quart of hot tap water. Rotate in dye solution for 8 to 10 minutes, or until desired color is reached. Remove from solution, rinse and loop over a hanger to dry.

When rope lengths are almost dry, comb out with a wide-toothed comb. This will pull out knots and straighten strands. Save combed out strands for later use. Divide rope lengths into 3 equal groups and braid together, leaving several inches unbraided at the ends. Loop braid into a circle and tie overlapping ends together with wire. Cover wire with combed out strands.

Wreath shape is set by dipping braid into a starch solution. Prepare solution by mixing equal amounts (about 2 cups for each) of Niagara instant laundry starch and cold water in a shallow pan. Dip wreath into solution, then place flat on waxed paper to dry.

For flower trim, cut a 12-inch length of rope and dye a contrasting color. When almost dry, comb out and cut into 3 4-inch lengths. Crisscross these lengths and tie together in center with wire. Trim edges of flower. Cut, dye and comb out 3 smaller lengths of rope for center of flower. Crisscross lengths and secure with wire. Trim edges and glue to center of flower. Wire flower to overlapping edges of braided wreath.

Flower wreath:

This wreath is formed with 8 separately made flowers wired to a cardboard frame. For each flower, cut sisal rope into 6 6-inch lengths. Unravel each length, leaving 1 inch unwound in center. Comb out unraveled ends with a wide-toothed comb. Wire lengths together into groups of two lengths each. Then crisscross lengths and tie together in center with wire for flower shape. Make middle flower by cutting 3 3-inch rope lengths. Comb out and wire together as with larger flower. When all eight flowers (large and middle sections) are formed, dip into dye solutions prepared as directed for pigtail wreath. Use contrasting dyes for large and middle flower section. Rinse and dry.

For each flower center, cut a 13 1/2 inch length of unraveled but not combed out length of sisal rope. Dip into a solution of equal amounts of instant laundry starch and cold water. Twist rope into circular shape and allow to dry on waxed

CRAFTY IDEAS

Play Clay Topiary Tree

Prepare play clay mixture. When cool enough to handle, knead like dough. Form into about 30 1-inch balls and about 66 1 1/4-inch diameter balls. Stick a clove into each ball and set out, clove side up, on protected surface; dry overnite. Stick a toothpick into soft (undried) part on bottom of each ball; dry completely.

Melt paraffin wax over water in a double boiler. Add bits of red crayon to color wax a bright red. Dip dried play clay balls into melted wax, coating evenly. Then dip each immediately into ice water to harden wax and give it a shiny appearance. For a brighter color, play clay can be dipped again into wax, then ice water.

Purchase a 12 inch high styrofoam cone and separate base. Beginning around bottom edge of cone, stick in larger play clay balls. Continue adding balls in rows, placing smaller balls near top and finishing with 1 ball on the top. Fill in spaces with holly or green plastic leaves. Set finished, decorated cone on base.

Play Clay: Thoroughly mix 1 cup Argo corn starch and 2 cups baking soda (1 pound package) in saucepan. Add 1 1/4 cups water. Mix until smooth. Bring to a boil over medium heat, and continue to heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches a moist mashed potato consistency.

Turn out on a plate; cover with a damp cloth and let stand until cool enough to handle.

To make this attractive decoration, play clay is dipped into red-colored wax and arranged to look like a tree of shiny, tiny apples.

YOUR STATE OF HEALTH
CHRISTMAS AND CHILDREN

Once upon a time, we often think, Christmastide was a simple time. The mere sight of jolly, old Santa and his prancing reindeers, and a doll or drum as a Christmas day present, was all a child wanted, and in fact, needed. For the adult, it was a religious time and one of pleasant, good cheer spent with family and friends.

Unfortunately, much of this nostalgic memory we have of the old-fashioned, Yuletide spirit is somehow transformed today into a commercial game ... and the name of it is, "dollars-dollars." Nowadays, it appears that many parents equate Christmas with the giving of expensive gifts. "His own color TV is what he wants and it will make him happy," they say. The adult, himself, finds that nothing makes him happy...exception... perhaps a trunk full of money and even then he's not sure.

For some, this modern notion of Merry Christmas is not merry at all. It has become a tense time because the holiday season has lost much of its significance. Indeed, many people dread the thought of it. Instead of children squealing with joy, they're howling with frustration while being dragged from one loaded toy shop to another, seeing things they can never have and, truthfully, they'll never miss.

If we're ever to get back to the simple

Christmas, the simple life, we'll have to return to the basics and what is more basic than a healthy, well-adjusted childhood.

Early education and the thoughtful discipline of a child begins at home, suggests the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, and is given by parents who realize that love and care from them means more to a child than a bagful of toys. Discipline with love in a youngster's life is one of the keys to good physical and mental health. Without it there is little dignity or self-respect. A child's experience beginning in early childhood in learning and developing self confidence and respect for others is unquestionably the most valuable asset he carries into adult life. The fact is, children not only expect, but really want a sense of understanding what is expected of him, because it helps him adapt and adjust his attitudes toward life and he loves and respects those who give him this kind of support.

At this time of year, this Department feels obliged to warn parents and other adults about giving children hazardous toys. To be sure, there are dangerous playthings that can physically hurt a child. But, the Department also stresses that even more serious harm can be done by the mental hurt thrust upon the child by well-meaning but thoughtless grownups especially around the holidays.
